Vigorous Resolutions Adopted by the New York Union League.

An Appeal to the Governments of the Various States.

The New Orleans Lynching is Called Murder, but the Evil That Caused It Must Be Remedied.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, April 9.—[By the Associated Press.] The Committee on Political Reform of the Union League Club tonight submitted a long document on the recent killing in New Orleans, which was adopted. It considers the matter briefly from a judicial standpoint, saying that while it is highly probable there was a kind of justice meted out to the victims, it was under a government of law and order nothing but murder. The event cannot be viewed without grave apprehension. Such examples are contagious and no one can tell where the next mob will undertake to correct failures that are supposed to occur in the administration of law, nor how many such assaults our system of government will endure.

SOCIETY.

VACATION HOME FOR WORKING WOMEN.

The Woman's Club of this city has set on foot a praiseworthy plan to establish a vacation home for women at some convenient seaside resort.

They propose to arrange a pleasant, comfortable place at probably Long Beach or Santa Monica, where tired and overworked women, a goodly number of them may procure a week's rest, or a longer period, with congenial surroundings, at prices just sufficient to cover the cost.

To this end, these persevering women propose making arrangements at an early date, and intend to solicit subscriptions to further the undertaking from philanthropic citizens, in the near future.

NEW YORK, April 9.—[By the Associated Press.] The Committee on Political Reform of the Union League Club tonight submitted a long document on the recent killing in New Orleans, which was adopted. It considers the matter briefly from a judicial standpoint, saying that while it is highly probable there was a kind of justice meted out to the victims, it was under a government of law and order nothing but murder. The event cannot be viewed without grave apprehension. Such examples are contagious and no one can tell where the next mob will undertake to correct failures that are supposed to occur in the administration of law, nor how many such assaults our system of government will endure.

THE MIKADO.

A Successful Production at the Opera House

BY TALENTED HOME ARTISTS.

Local News Picked Up Here and There—Points About People You Know—Notes and Brevities.

The most successful production of anything ever attempted in the musical line by local talent was the Mikado as rendered at the Opera House last night by the Pasadena Conservatory of Music. The rendition of this tuneful and probably most popular of any of Gilbert and Sullivan's works, was a signal success, and further emphasized the fact which has frequently been demonstrated before, that Pasadena possesses as talented and accomplished a company of musicians as any city of larger size can boast.

Much praise can be given Mr. Kyle for the eminent ability he has displayed in leading this organization up to its present state of musical and dramatic proficiency. The company was organized a comparatively short time ago, its members for the most part have received no musical training, while their histrionic talents were entirely undeveloped. From this material Mr. Kyle, by indefatigable work and by the exercise of an amount of patience that would have done Job credit, evolved an organization which has proved itself competent to interpret several of the most familiar of the comic operas in a manner that many professional troupes might do well to copy. The conservatory is a credit to the town and deserves the most liberal support of the community, without which it cannot hope to exist.

Last night's performance without doubt eclipsed all previous efforts. Everything was complete. The stage-setting was strikingly handsome. The stage was literally encircled by a network of the most beautiful, arranged with rare artistic effect, which was heightened by growing vines and plants, which made their appearance here and there in a manner so natural as to lead one to believe himself in the midst of a beautiful semi-tropical garden. The costumes were secured from Chicago and were rich and correct in every detail.

The opera was presented by the following cast:

The Mikado of Japan.....O. W. Kyle
Sanki-Poo, his son.....J. W. Kyle
Yum-Yum, his wife.....J. W. Kyle
Ko-Ko, his High Excellency.....J. W. Kyle
Pooh-Bah, Lord High Executioner.....J. W. Kyle
Phoebus, a noble lord.....J. W. Kyle
Pitt-Sing, a noble lord.....J. W. Kyle
Peep-Bo, a noble lord.....J. W. Kyle
Katisha, his wife.....J. W. Kyle
Nanki-Poo, his wife.....J. W. Kyle
Nee-Ban, his wife.....J. W. Kyle

In the chorus were: Messrs. Wood, Ely, Burnham, Smith, Pratt, Loughery, Foster, Moorehead, Crandall, Dey and Langford, Mrs. Burnham, Mrs. Howe, Mrs. Kyle and Misses Fock, Shoemaker, Linsley, Brown, Simmons, Berry, Morton and Brown.

As the "Mikado," Mr. Kyle was at his best, although the part did not afford him ample scope for the display of his ample talent. He made the most of the music and interpreted the character with rare humor. He was given a warm welcome on his appearance. Mr. Cates, as "Nanki-Poo," sang the somewhat difficult music assigned to him with a very pleasing manner, his sweet voice being well adapted to the part. He had an easy and graceful stage presence, and proved himself a most attractive lover. The burden of the work fell on Mr. Kyle, who, as "Ko-Ko," made the bit of the evening. Although just recovering from a somewhat severe illness, he interpreted the part with characteristic humor, and kept the audience in an uproar the whole time he was on the stage. His local hits were received with great enthusiasm. Few better "Ko-Kos" are to be found on the professional stage. Messrs. Rigby and Frost as "Pooh-Bah" and "Pitt-Sing" respectively, were highly satisfactory and kept themselves popular with the audience from start to finish.

The lady soloists acquitted themselves with equal merit. The chief work fell to Mrs. Clapp, who was as sweet and coquettish as "Yum-Yum" as one could wish to see. Her singing was charming throughout and in her solo in the second act she achieved a brilliant success. Her posturing showed careful study. Mrs. Ellenberger and Mrs. Cates completed a trio of captivating "little maids," and secured their full share of the applause by their excellent acting and singing. Miss Stoutenburgh took the somewhat thankless part of "Katisha" to perfection. Her make-up was excellent and she interpreted the part with a keen appreciation of its humor. Her solo in the second act was very well sung. The chorus was strong and well trained. The voices harmonized nicely. The chorus on the entrance of "Ko-Ko" in the first act, was particularly well rendered. The audience was large and appreciative. The opera will be repeated tonight.

Snake Killers Taken Ill.

The odor of snakes is one of the most sickening imaginable, as a party of reptile slayers at Durston's station, Kansas, learned the other day. The slaughter took place at a stone quarry on the farm of Pack Duncan, a well to do colored man, where Duncan's boys are engaged in getting out stone for the use of the Missouri Pacific railway. In a large fissure in the rocks the boys came across a ball of snakes composed of blue snakes, rattlers, copperheads, vipers and black snakes, ranging in length from one to six feet, all intertwined promiscuously together. Being in a comatose condition, the snakes were unable to extricate themselves from the mass and were easily dispatched. Raising another rock below this, they came upon a similar mass of snakes, which they also killed. They continued raising stones deeper down the fissure, finding these snake rolls, until they had killed 133 reptiles, some of them monsters, the larger ones being of the black snake species. They finally reached a large fissure in the rocks in which they found a mass of snakes, and saw hundreds of them crawling farther down the fissure. A large number of the snakes were overpowered, and the Duncan boys were taken violently ill, vomiting for some time after they had reached home.

Colorado's Pretty Reading Clerk.

Anna M. Kelly, of Denver, may be found today and hereafter until the close of the session occupying the desk of reading clerk in the Colorado senate. The contest over the election of this official was sharp and interesting while in progress. It ended in a victory for a woman. The rights of women are at least partially vindicated in the result which places a member of the gentler sex in an office never before held by any other than a strong voiced man in the history of Colorado senate.—Denver Republican.

Although the late Duke of Bedford was cremated, when the bearers raised the coffin they found it as heavy as usual, the duke having left instructions that a piece of lead should be put into his coffin with a statement of the cremation, in case, if the coffin were opened centuries hence, there should arise some suspicion concerning his death.

CATALINA'S ISLE.

What is Promised to Summer Visitors.

AVAILON (Catalina Island), April 5.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.]

I would like to say a few words to the outside world about Avalon and Catalina Island. The season for pleasure-seeking and sight-seeing is fast approaching, and people are beginning to cast about to determine where they shall go to enjoy themselves best during the little vacation they may have this season.

There is not a spot in the habitable world where you can enjoy more and spend less than here. We have the finest beach for fishing, rowing and bathing, that can be found anywhere.

Children can go out alone in a skiff for a mile or more with perfect safety, and persons enjoying a swim can go out just as far as their inclination leads them and no bores will interfere with them. There is no place like it. It would astonish the uninformed to see what quantities of fish are taken here on this beach almost every day. I don't think I would exaggerate if I should say the daily catch here just now will average ten tons, while some days it is much larger. It is common to take from one to three tons at a single haul, and the seines are almost incessantly at work. San Pedro gives the market for all the fish they can take and at figures that pay the fisherman well. Sardines bring 1 cent per pound, smelt 4, rock bass 4, halibut 3 and so on for the different varieties. So far our fish here cost us nothing. We have a very liberal set of fishermen and we give us all the fish we want, and we get them alive and a kicking just as they come out of the water. The accommodations for visitors this season will be first-class. None need stay away. They can all be made comfortable while here. All the hotels and boarding-houses will be under efficient management. Capt. Condit, commander of the sloop Hattie, will soon begin to receive the mail, to express the week. There never was a finer trip on the water than the sail from San Pedro here. After a time the Hermosa will begin running her regular trips. I understand work will soon begin on our wharf.

Long Beach.

LONG BEACH, April 9.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] A large party of the Terminal magnates came down today to view our magnificent beach and the future harbor of Long Beach.

After a hasty drive over the proposed route through our city they could not but voice in their hearts their admiration of the beauty of our location.

The Grant Brothers, contractors, are making the dirt fly at Rattlesnake Island, and will soon be grading in Long Beach. The great Terminal magnates were in the party: Col. R. C. Kerens, Jefferson Chandler, George W. Parker, A. H. Handlin, Jr., A. G. Baker, T. B. Burnett, W. F. McClure, W. H. Workman, Charles Green and Mr. Griffith, W. H. Goucher and several of the Development Company came with them.

A special train will leave here Saturday evening for the authors' carnival.

Wearing Overcoats in Dry Weather.

I have noticed during the dry walking many persons using "rubbers," as if the streets retained the mud and slush. I look upon the aberration of these wearers of rubbers as a result of yielding to the influences of a bad practice.

For myself, whenever I have worn rubbers under stress of weather, I have been only too glad to cast them off at the first favorable opportunity; but many persons persist in keeping them on even at places of amusement, where they feel particularly oppressive from the high temperature. This largely yielding to the arbitrary influence of an uncomfortable article of dress should be a warning against letting habit get the advantage of principle in such matters.

I have heard that in some places in New England, where the winter's cold is ordinarily severe, "arctics" are a feature of indoor gayeties, and that the "Portland Fancy" "All the Way to Boston," and similar dances are executed under the disadvantages of these incumbrances. Such experiences should be headed by wearers of "rubbers" in dry weather, lest they fall under the control of these oppressive foot coverings, and perhaps be obliged to wear them to bed.—Boston Post.

Dr. Albert Shaw, whom Mr. Stead has appointed American editor of The Review of Reviews, is not yet 40, but he has already made an enviable name for himself as a sociologist. He is an authority on the subject of municipal gov-

Health Work for Children.

Mrs. Quinby Shaw and some of the members of her admirable staff have set on foot a new arrangement, for which hundreds of boys and girls will bless her. In College place and at the day nursery in College street, after the kindergarten children have left, the tables are cleared and the rooms are transformed into reading rooms. From 4 to 6 o'clock little boys and girls may attend together. From 6 to 7 the rooms are closed while the children are at supper, and then from 7 until 9 the children of the neighborhood come in to read. For this purpose a small selection of books has been carefully made, and the intelligent lady in charge furnishes to each boy or girl the book which is to be read that evening.

The teacher in charge begins each evening by a general reading, which is always heard with interest. After fifteen minutes spent in this way, each child takes the book provided at the table, and in a well lighted, well warmed, comfortable room spends the evening in reading something which is profitable. Nothing can be prouder than the sight of a body of children, who would be in great danger of falling into much more careless ways of spending the evening, if so good a provision were not made for them. At Cottage Place the attendance every day is more than one hundred.—Boston Commonwealth.

Mexican Custom Houses.

For the commerce and trade of Mexico there are thirty-eight custom houses in that country, nine of which are on the Gulf, one on the Guatemala frontier, fifteen on the Pacific coast, and thirteen on the frontier of the United States.

Matamorras is at one time a large commercial port, but American railroads to the upper border towns have deprived it of the greater bulk of its trade, although the country around is settled up and the soil is exceptionally fertile.

Vera Cruz just about beat Progress in its maritime business in 1890. From Progress the principal product exported to the United States is henequen fiber, a variety of hemp. Of the ports on the Pacific coast Mazatlan is the most important, having a population of 14,000, and being the distributing point for the greater parts of the state of Sinaloa.

The Mexican Naval Bureau of the Pacific is located at this point, and also a branch of the Mexican signal service. The custom houses returns show a constantly better development, especially on the frontier line between the United States and Mexico.—Mexico Moderno.

A Cheerful Prediction.

There are no less than five discoveries aside from Koch's for the cure of consumption, and all by reputable physicians, and all proved of value, and it is predicted by medical men that within ten years consumption will hardly be known in the civilized world.—Detroit Free Press.

The lecture and literary fields seem to open to Senator Ingalls as the present term of his political life closes. He has received lucrative offers for a book covering his experiences in congress and for a series of lectures on some popular topic.
